

Build Customised Content for Desktop Training in Minutes...

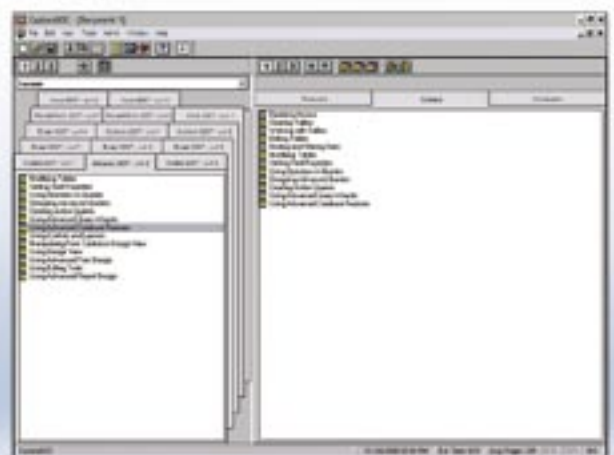

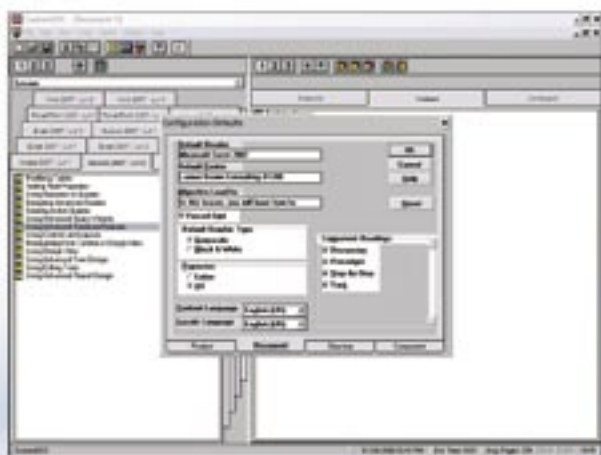

CustomDOC has provided training managers and teachers with customisable classroom training materials since 1993. With a portfolio of over 130 course titles, CustomDOC provides a library resource from which tailored courses can be built in minutes.

In addition to the full Microsoft Office Suite, the CustomDOC titles include Windows, Vista, Introduction to Computing and Internet Explorer. Using its proprietary database, it is possible to build courses combining individual titles, Word, Excel, etc., at the lowest level. The level of customisation offered by CustomDOC enables curriculum to be developed for both MOUS and ECDL accreditations.

Build your Content

CustomDOC is organised into thousands of learning objects that are task-specific and targeted to the needs of each user. These learning objects are small and interchangeable, providing you with customisation options that are unmatched in the courseware marketplace. No other courseware product makes it easier for you to pick and choose exactly the right subset of topics when building your courses.

Self-Check your Content

Building complete, error-free classroom materials with CustomDOC is easy. With just a click of the mouse you can drag and drop topics, lessons and components, then CustomDOC's exclusive Continuity Check and Prerequisite Check ensures that your educational content is sound.

CustomDOC will also automatically generate student exercises to correspond with the topics and lessons you have selected, providing a complete training package that you can print or store in your personal library.

Recognising different teaching and learning styles, CustomDOC provides a selection of step-by-step and procedures to support trainers and teachers in the classroom.

Each lesson you create can include the following features:

-  Objective
Outlining the topics covered.
-  Discussion
Providing an overview of the topic.
-  Procedures
Providing an overview of the process for quick reference.
-  Notes and Warnings
Providing nice to know and need to know information.
-  Step by Step selection
In a two-column format delineating task and keystroke.
-  Exercises
Giving students the opportunity to work independently and receive hands-on experience.

Personalise your Content

The finished courseware can also include your organisation logo and personalised headers and footers, enabling you to create branded documents specific to your corporate requirements.

With flexible and affordable purchase and leasing options, the cost of content development in terms of both budget and manpower can be minimised from as little as £950*.
